

Before and After Coal:

Images and Voices from Scotland's Mining Communities

The National Galleries of Scotland and the artist Nicky Bird offer thanks to the many people from the former mining communities in Ayrshire, Fife and the Lothians, the Coalfields Regeneration Trust (CRT), the Coalfield Communities Landscape Partnership (CCLP) and the National Union of Mineworkers (NUM). We thank everyone who has contributed over the years, including:

East Ayrshire: Auchinleck Talbot Football Club; East Montgarswood Farm, Sorn; Natalie Carmichael and the Nest Wellbeing Group, Cumnock; John Doolan on behalf of Ayrshire and Scottish Mineworkers and their families); Ryan Doolan; Allan Dorans MP; Sandra Forbes and the Things Tae Dae Group; Donald Fulton; George Hodge; Betty Laird Houston; Jean McCauley; Colin MacDonald, Project Supervisor, CCLP; Lainey McLeod, fellow staff and visitors at East Ayrshire Community Hospital; Councillor Jim McMahan; John Sanderson, Cumnock Juniors Community Enterprise; Frank and Sandy Bryce and Bobby McCulloch, Cumnock Juniors Social Club; Teraessa Lopez, Paul McGurn and the S3 Students at the Robert Burns Academy, Cumnock; New Cumnock Parish Church; Barbara and Jim Rutherford; Ian Wallace; James Wood.

Fife: Tom Adams; Marjory MacIntosh and the Benarty Heritage Preservation Group; George Dryburgh and family; David Doig and the Cardenden History Group; Lee George; In-site Property Solutions Ltd; Nicky Wilson, President, NUM; Pauline Grandison, CEO, CRT Scotland; Save the Cage: George Mackie, Iain Chalmers and Andrew 'Watty' Watson; Betty Hunter, Councillor Bob Young, George Hunter; Rebecca Marshall and the S3 Art and Design Students at Beath High School, Cowdenbeath.

Midlothian: Linda Anderson, June Robertson, Elizabeth Wilson and the Newtongrange Village Voices Local History and Reminiscence Group; David Bell, Robin Connelly, Nicola Moss and the National Mining Museum Scotland, Newtongrange; Customers and Staff of The Dean Tavern of Newtongrange; Thomas Dickson; Fiona Horne; John Kane; David McDougall; Brian Murray; Julie Read; Sinclair Sutherland; Eilidh Zielinski and the S3 Art and Design Students at Dalkeith High School; Debbie Small and the S2 Art and Design Students (Elective) at Newbattle High School.

Outreach Artist: Morgan Atkinson, supported by Rosa Gally and Craig MacLean. Documentary filming by Cagoule TV (Lewis Gourlay and Eilidh Munro).

Chris Dooks; Janet Lee Adam of Eastern Exhibition & Display; Dr Ewan Gibbs, University of Glasgow; Ross Hughes, Environment & Community Development Officer, Forth River Trust; Dr Yvonne McFayden, University of Strathclyde; Joan MacKenzie; Sandra McIntosh; Harry Murray; Professor Jim Phillips, University of Glasgow; Graham Robinson; Scottish Miners Facebook Group; Professor Susannah Thompson, The Glasgow School of Art.

Special thanks go to the family of Milton and Anne Rogovin.

The Before and After Coal Project Team: Lucy Armitage, Robin Baillie, James Berry, Carmen Brannan, Frances Campbell, Greta Casacci, Phil Hunt, Anne Lyden, Julie McLaughlin, Greag Mac a' tSaoir, Lauren Mallin, Louise Rowlands and artist Nicky Bird.

Nicky Bird's research visit to The Library of Congress, Washington DC, USA was made possible by The Glasgow School of Art's Research Development Fund. Her community engagement for Mineworkings was supported by Creative Scotland's open fund for individuals, made possible with funds from the National Lottery and Scottish Government. Exhibited works by Nicky Bird were printed by A&M Imaging and framed by Framework Picture Framers, production supported by the National Galleries of Scotland. The National Galleries of Scotland's youth engagement was supported by the New Park Educational Trust.

Exhibition Design: Make Things Happen